

Sequential Electives

Sequential electives are defined as two years of study in a focused sequence of elective courses leading to further education or preparation for employment. Students who are pursuing the Standard Diploma or Advanced Studies Diploma must complete two sequential credits.