Counselors are available to assist parents and students with course selections and career planning. Parents may arrange to meet with the counselor by calling the school's guidance department.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Students begin the sequential development of all communicative skills for Chinese. They use the language in relevant and purposeful contexts to exchange information, interpret the language on a variety of topics, and make presentations to diverse audiences. In addition, culture is an integral part of meaningful language use.

PREREQUISITE

None

OPTIONS FOR NEXT COURSE

Mandarin Chinese II

Students who study one language for an extended period of time will have the opportunity to achieve the highest levels of performance in the five goal areas: Communication, Cultures, Connections, Comparisons, and Communities.

Students pursuing an advanced diploma must successfully complete three years of one language or two years of two languages.

Students may begin the study of a new language, i.e., Mandarin Chinese I (Grades 9-12 at Tallwood HS only), French I, Latin I or Spanish I (Grades 6-12), German I or Japanese I (Grades 7-12) or Russian I (Grades 9-12).

REQUIRED STUDENT TEXTBOOK

SUPPLEMENTARY MATERIALS

The teacher may choose to supplement the basal text with materials to extend and enrich the students' understanding of course topics. These materials may be drawn from primary sources, print media, and audio/visual media.

MANDARIN CHINESE I

GOALS AND STANDARDS

Interpersonal Communication

- NWI.1 The student will exchange simple spoken and written information in the target language.
1. Use basic greetings, farewells, and expressions of courtesy both orally and in writing.
 2. Express likes and dislikes, requests, descriptions, and directions.
 3. Ask and answer formulaic questions about self and other familiar topics.
- NWI.2 The student will sustain brief oral and written exchanges in the target language, using familiar phrases and sentences.
1. Initiate, sustain, and close brief oral and written exchanges with emphasis on the present time.
 2. Use proper forms of address in familiar situations.
 3. Use nonverbal communication and simple paraphrasing to convey and comprehend messages.

Interpretive Communication: Listening and Reading for Understanding

- NWI.3 The student will understand basic spoken and written target language based on familiar topics in familiar contexts through a variety of media.
1. Identify key words, cognates, and some formulaic expressions when listening and reading.
 2. Comprehend simple, culturally authentic oral and written materials, such as messages and advertisements that use familiar vocabulary and formulaic expressions with contextual support.
 3. Follow simple instructions, such as classroom procedures or using classroom technology.
 4. For character-based languages, recognize basic compounds, radicals (e.g., recognizing simplified or traditional characters for Chinese or recognizing Japanese writing systems of hiragana, katakana, and kanji) and Pinyin.
- NWI.4 The student will use verbal and nonverbal cues to understand simple spoken and written messages in the target language.
1. Differentiate among basic types of statements, questions, and exclamations.
 2. Use culturally appropriate gestures, body language, and intonation to clarify the message.

Presentational Communication: Speaking and Writing

- NWI.5 The student will present information orally and in writing in the target language, using a variety of previously learned vocabulary, phrases, and structural patterns.
1. Present orally basic information gathered from informal conversations, class presentations, interviews, readings, and a variety of audio media sources.
 2. Present basic information about topics such as oneself, family members and others, events, interests, school, recreational activities, and personal belongings with emphasis on present time.
 3. Demonstrate increasing attention to accurate intonation and pronunciation.
 4. Demonstrate increasing attention to accurate word order, punctuation, accents and other diacritical marks, and spelling, or stroke order in character-based languages.
- NWI.6 The student will present rehearsed material in the target language, including brief narratives, monologues, dialogues, and songs.
1. Use appropriate verbal and nonverbal techniques, such as voice inflection, gestures, and facial expressions.
 2. Communicate coherent ideas using appropriate visual and technological support.

Cultural Perspectives, Practices, and Products

- NWI.7 The student will develop an awareness of common perspectives, practices, and products of the culture(s) where the target language is spoken.
1. Identify main viewpoints of the culture(s), such as the concept of time, education, transportation, and the roles of family members.
 2. Identify key customs and traditions of the culture(s), such as greetings, celebrations, holiday practices, and forms of address that demonstrate politeness.
 3. Identify important historical and contemporary individuals and groups associated with significant events from the culture(s).
 4. Identify some products of the culture(s), such as natural and manufactured items, creative and fine arts, forms of recreation, pastimes, dwellings, regionally-specific language, and symbols, such as the art of calligraphy.
- NWI.8 The student will recognize that perspectives, practices, and products of the culture(s) studied are interrelated.
1. Recognize that the viewpoints, customs and traditions, and products of speakers of the target language shape their cultures.
 2. Identify major cities or regions and geographical features in countries where the target language is spoken and the reasons they are significant in the cultures of those countries.

Making Connections through Language

- NWI.9 The student will connect information about the target language and culture(s) with concepts studied in other subject areas.
1. Identify the use of target language and culture in other subject areas, for example, Arabic numbers and the number zero.
 2. Relate content from other subject areas to topics discussed in the target-language class.

Linguistic and Cultural Comparisons

- NWI.10 The student will compare basic elements of the target language to those of English and other languages.
1. Recognize cognates, genders, level-appropriate idioms, and differences in writing systems, as applicable.
 2. Recognize differences in sound systems and their effects on the communication of meaning, such as basic sound distinctions, intonation patterns, and tones in Chinese.
- NWI.11 The student will demonstrate understanding of the significance of culture through comparisons between the cultures studied and the cultures of the United States.
1. Compare patterns of behavior and interaction found in the United States with those found in the cultures studied.
 2. Demonstrate an awareness that social practices and personal interactions differ among cultures, for example, the concept of personal space and eye contact, and the importance of the group versus the individual.
 3. Demonstrate an awareness of unique elements of the student's own culture.

Interacting in School and Global Communities

- NWI.12 The student will use target-language skills and cultural knowledge beyond the classroom setting for recreational, educational, and occupational purposes.
1. Find and present examples of the target language and the cultures studied gathered from interaction with target-language speakers, and authentic media or technology.
 2. Use resources, such as individuals and organizations in the community or technology, to gain information about the cultures studied.
